NutriSea® Testimonials for EquuSea® for Horses

I want to take a moment to thank you for the sample of EquuSea. Pepper (my horse) had an accident during the night and we are not sure how it happened. However, when we discovered her the next morning she was unable to walk. I had 3 different vets look at her and advise me what to do help. Two of the vets told me to put her down she would never be able to walk again. One vet tried to treat her with acupuncture and nerve stimulation which didn't seem to help. Finally, a friend told me about the EquuSea. Well, I tried it and Pepper started to improve after about 2 weeks. Now it is one year after she hurt herself. Pepper is now UP AND RUNNING with the other horses. My vets can't believe it. I want to thank you with all my heart for helping bring my Pepper back to a good quality of life.

My old jump jennet Mel has awful conformation and had developed quite the hitch in her giddy up over the last few years. I have had her on several joint supplement products, all very expensive, none seeming to give her much help. Last year in our own Brayer Newsletter there was an article on a new more natural equine joint supplement EquuSea. I tried some of it for Mel and I do believe she has had the most comfortable winter in 5 years. I could see an improvement in her way of going after just a few weeks! But even more important she likes it! No product does you much good if you can't get your donkey to eat it. EquuSea has my vote.

I have a mare that has had severe pronounced lameness in the right shoulder since 1992 as well as arthritis in the rear legs. When we got her in 2001, we put her on monthly Adequan injections as well as Absorbine Flex-Plus, which gave her some relief. But, even that seemed to be failing her this year. When Horse Journal gave EquuSea such a sterling rating, I decided to give it a try, but didn't expect much, due to the extent of her problems. After only five days on EquuSea, not only does she NOT show lameness from the shoulder, she doesn't sound like a bowl of Rice Krispies when she walks. I'm amazed – and ordering human products for my husband and me, and also telling my veterinarian. Thank you.

The EquuSea has really helped my 31 year old horse; I have experimented with and without; believe me, I would much rather not be without! Like a mother, it is hard to see Saber struggle to get on his feet in the morning – but with EquuSea he does not need my encouragement and conjoining. My husband and I also love your products. I especially notice a difference in my joints when I take the SeaCuMAX; my body definitely seems to be able to utilize the sea cucumber better than the bovine or shark chondroitin.

I had a bit of a problem getting the horses to eat the EquuSea but once my old quarter horse gelding developed a taste for it, he did really well on the product. I had tried him on Cosequin, GLC 5500 and Glycoflex II without much improvement, but after 45 days on the EquuSea he was about 99% sound after being gimpy for the past 4 years due to degenerative Joint disease involving the coffin joint of his left front foot. I took him with me on vacation to Pebble Beach and rode him on the trail every day, up and down hills and through heavy sand with no bute!

The white German shepherd Nell (far left) and the Australian shepherd Shelby (left) both took Sea Jerkey to assist in their recovery from leg surgery. The German trakehner Laser (above), which had a weak hind end, can now canter effortlessly after taking EquuSea.
